To Young Ladies, Teachers and Parents.
AN OPPORTUNITY
FOR EUROPEAN STUDY & TRAVEL,
At Very Moderate Cost.

A lady of culture and some literary attainments, (a native of this State) having secured the services of a select class that will go abroad in April with Prof. A. J. Bell, Director of the International Academy of New York and Berlin, solicits correspondence with ladies who desire to accompany her, also with pupils who would like to place their daughters under her more especial care. Unsurpassed advantages for culture and enjoyment are offered at less than one-half what their cost would be to parties not possessing the facilities presented by the International Academy, under plans which have been in successful operation three or four years.

No loss, danger or accident of any kind whatever, has attended any one of the three tour parties heretofore joined the classes, and returned in blooming health.

This Line of Travel includes Germany, comprising ten weeks' stay in Berlin for study, Europe through Austria, Italy, Switzerland, Belgium, France and England.

Lectures on the entire form of this study, including eighty Academic destinations, cost of sightseeing, museum, concerts, etc., inclusive, and private lessons from the best Professors in the language, literature, etc., at the option of pupils, are given by the Academy Directress, at the expense of lessons to be paid for by pupils. Circulars, and subjects for conversation will be issued by Prof. Bell, which will cover most of the ground. Circulars and further particulars, address (with two stamps)

WEDNESDAY MARCH 4 1875

A REVOLUTIONIST'S CAREER.

For some time past the newspapers have had but few quiet paragraphs concerning the election to Parliament of John Mitchel, the noted Irish revolutionist, whose saddle and cabin was Richmond, Va. He was one of the Irish rebels of 48 and was transported for seditious practices to this country where he had an honorable and successful career. He was one of the only two who voluntarily broke their parole of honor not to escape. He was pardoned by the English government, although it may be said that the outbreak of the rebellion took all eyes off the Confederate prisoners, and served in the Confederate army and navy during the war. His revolutionary instincts follow him wherever he goes, and he quarrels with the Jeff. Davis administration by a newspaper attack upon it, in the very act of receiving pardon. Not long since he left Richmond for Ireland, where he was enthusiastically received and elected to Parliament as a member from Tipperary. The British Parliament refused to admit him, on the ground that one who had escaped from custody after conviction of felony was not eligible to a seat in that body. Mr. Mitchel was re-elected by the people of Tipperary, and was again refused admission. He then resigned, and was re-elected by those who desired to express their sympathy with him. His death, at the age of 61, occurred on Monday last.

He was to have delivered a lecture on Tipperary in the Lecture Room at Cork on the 29th of March, but was taken ill, and was obliged to resign his engagement. He was a man of great ability, and was a powerful writer. His style was terse, vigorous and clear. He was a man of great courage, and was a powerful writer. His style was terse, vigorous and clear. He was a man of great courage, and was a powerful writer. His style was terse, vigorous and clear.

ANDY'S SWING

For some reason which the public cannot learn, since the telegraph and newspapers have been closed to Monday morning, the friends of the Administration have been unable to get the Senate to confirm the nomination of Mr. Richardson to be Postmaster General. The nomination of Mr. Richardson to be Postmaster General. The nomination of Mr. Richardson to be Postmaster General. The nomination of Mr. Richardson to be Postmaster General.

The Portland Press quietly remarks:

The Bangor Commercial devotes a whole column to public and political types exhibitions so jubilant as to cover the recent victory in that city, and concludes with an invocation for one tremendous yell — Well a dozen years ago the other fellows who were the friends of the Commercial always yelled.

The Boston Globe having originally given currency to the proposition that ex Presidents be made Senators for life is inclined to backslide from the suggestion since the great Tennesseean's performance. It says:

"Andrew Johnson has told what he knows about the Louisiana question. He has also told what he knows and some things that he doesn't know on other subjects. And it did take him a great while. Two hours sufficed for the whole story. But he did manage to throw in a large amount of personal malice, of egotism, of spread-eagle oratory, and, of course, of Constitution. Seldom has a public man in this country had so good an opportunity to gain a nation's confidence, and seldom has an example of such total failure been presented.

An exchange says: They tell a good story in Brooklyn apropos of Mrs. Moulton's evidence. A gentleman in reading that lady's testimony, that she covered Mr. Beecher with an afghan, so the lay upon her sofa, thought just for curiosity he would consult the official record of the weather for that day, and found it 85 in the shade.

A MISSING VESSEL HEARD FROM. The schooner Addie Ryerson of Lubec from East Weymouth to Wilmington N. C. which has been some fifty days at sea, and recently reported as missing, vessel has been heard from. A telegraphic despatch says she was at another point with a broken boom having lost her foremast, flying. She had left sails and was making badly, and as short on provisions, but otherwise. She was a mere Regulator, went to Lubec assistance but no offer to tow. Was a distance.

DONALDSON'S BALLOONING. Professor Donaldson has contracted to do a balloon ascension for the benefit of the Firemen's Association, to receive $200 for the service, during the term of eight months. He is to have six balloons of different colors, and is to use during the ascension the largest of which is to contain 70,000 cubic feet of gas. It is also said that Donaldson will make an attempt to cross the ocean, and should he succeed in this, Bell's Life, London, says that he will receive $10,000 for the exploit, and $5,000 for the descent, and $10,000 if he makes the trip from New York to London in forty-eight hours, or $10,000 if he takes seventy-two hours.

IN SENATOR CHANDLER'S mill, to a Mill, a correspondent of the Portland Advertiser, writes: "Senator Chandler's mill, which has been running night and day, has been shut down for the last two weeks, and the men are all out of work. The mill is owned by Senator Chandler, and he has refused to pay the men their wages, and they have struck. The mill is owned by Senator Chandler, and he has refused to pay the men their wages, and they have struck. The mill is owned by Senator Chandler, and he has refused to pay the men their wages, and they have struck.

FROM AUGUSTA.

The Convention of County Commissioners.

AUGUSTA March 23 A convention composed of the County Commissioners from the several counties in Maine commenced here to-day Five counties were represented Otis Hayes of Kennebec was chosen chairman and John R [illegible] of Androscoggin Secretary. The object of the convention is for consultation respecting jail work, helps and jail management. There are jail workshops in the counties of Penobscot, Lincoln and Androscoggin Kennebec has one finished but not yet in operation Cumberland has plans for one to be built this season, and other counties are to follow. After a discussion of the general subject, committees were appointed on jail and jail buildings, and of prisoners, inspection and religious exercises and prison garb to report at a session to-morrow. The sponsers were quite unanimous in the opinion that convicts should have charge of the work and the jails instead of letting it out to contractors, all of their jail work helps should be provided for each branch for many making as far as the benefit of the jail general

DOMESTIC NEWS.

SENATE—SPECIAL SESSION.

WASHINGTON March 23

Mr Anthony of Rhode Island gave notice that he would ask the Senate to remain in session to-day without recess until the work should be reached on the appropriation bills passed at the last session of Congress

Mr Bayard of Illinois took the floor and spoke in opposition to Morrill's resolution

Mr Wilson spoke in favor of the resolution. Final debate on the resolution was then had and the substitute offered by Mr Wright [illegible] approving of the action of the President was rejected Yeas 22, nays 49

Mr Hamlin submitted a resolution to the effect that Mr Anthony was not a proper person to be the one entitled to wear and use the gold medal presented to Lieut Kellogg for gallantry [illegible] Governor of Louisiana. Rejected Yeas 21, nays 49

During the debate on the resolution in favor of Mr Anthony a point of order was raised by Mr Bingham that the resolution was not in order, and was decided as follows

Yeas—Allison, Anthony, Cameron of Wisconsin, Bontwell of Mass, Bruce Burnside, Christiancy, Conkling, Creigh Dorsey, Edmunds, Ferry of Michigan, Frelinghuysen, Hereford, Hitchcock, Howe, Ingalls, Lot M of Nevada, Logan, McMillan, Mitchell, Morrill of Maine, Morrill of Vermont, Morton, Paddock, Patterson, Robertson, Sargent, Sherman, Spencer, Stockwell, Wadleigh, West and Windom—33.

Nays—Pannard, Bogy, Booth, Carpenter, Cockrell, Cooper, Davis, Dennis, Gordon, Johnston of Tennessee, Jones of Florida, Kelly, Kernan, McCreery, Merrimon, Norwood, Ramsey, Saulsbury, Sharon, Simpson, Thurman, Wallace, White and Withers—26.

In giving his vote Mr Robertson said he would vote for the resolution as a case of approval of the action of the President in suppressing by force the late insurrection, but in voting for it he did not commit himself to the rights of State government in Louisiana Conover, Oglesby and Cameron of Pa would have voted in the affirmative were paired with Morrison, Johnston of Va McDonald and Manson, who would have voted in the negative

The pending question on adopting the resolution of Frelinghuysen as amended by that of Anthony was agreed to yeas 35, nays 21. The resolution as passed reads as follows

Resolved That the action of the President in protecting the government in Louisiana of which W P Kellogg is the Executive in the exercise of that State against domestic violence and enforcing the laws of the United States in that State is approved

The Committee on public buildings and grounds contingent expenses of the Senate and printing were authorized to sit during the recess of Congress

The Senate then at 4 25 on motion of Mr Sherman proceeded to the consideration of Executive business and at 5 o'clock the doors were opened and the Senate adjourned till to-morrow

The following named Senators did not answer when their names were called and no announcement was made that they had paired Alcorn Clayton Dawes, Ferry of Conn Hamilton and Wright, Republicans, and Eaton and Goldthwaite Democrats

Official Report of the Marine Inspector.

The Loss of Life Erroneously Attributed to the Morning Apparatus.

NEW YORK, March 23. The official report of Capt Merriman, Returning Marine Inspector to the Secretary of the Treasury of the wreck of the Italian barque Giovanni and the loss of life at that disaster has been made. He says the loss of life at this disaster was erroneously attributed to the failure of the surface apparatus to accomplish what might be expected of it. He also says the crews of the stations seldom in sight can be relied upon for rescue. The apparatus was entirely deficient and appalled. There was a terrible storm, and the pounding of a hundred terrible and incessantly sounding blows were demolished and noble vessels that had withstood the storm of a century were wiped from town

A Charge to the Grand Jury by Judge Emmons

MEMPHIS March 23 [illegible] to-day by the Judge of the United States District Court, yesterday, delivered an elaborate and exhaustive charge to the Grand Jury in reference to civil rights He said You ask whether it is a crime for which you have a right to have an indictment that a negro has had added full and equal enjoyment of the accommodations which the laws of Tennessee and privileges of the theatres and places of amusement of the State [illegible] Such a denial is not a crime over which Congress has given the Court jurisdiction, the matters which the State Government has control Parties who think them have aggrieved can bring their civil suits in this Court at once Any decision we may then make can be reviewed by the Supreme Court" He then gave full reasons for coming into the details of the case which are mainly the exalted condition of the classes whom the law was intended to affect Until the three recent amendments to the National Constitution which abolished slavery and attempted to protect the freedmen and political rights of the free [illegible] all parties concerned felt that the Federal Government had no power whatever to reach such an offence

The punishment of murder, arson, assault and battery, trespass and fraud and injuries to reputation or protection to the right of action belong exclusively to the State and in reading the [illegible] recommended certain laws and common carriers within the state were under not only not granted to the General Government but in the Constitution itself expressly reserved to the States. The vast mass of civil and political rights included in the common law phrase "right to life liberty and the pursuit of happiness" [illegible] is under State protection To this end he said we should remember there was amicus assistant [illegible] and now the only question presented for judicial determination is how these amendments completely revolutionized the whole character of our Government? Because it is entirely evident that if Congress has the power of regulating the theatres and other places of amusement in Memphis and the other cities of the Union, this necessarily involves the power of protecting the more sacred and important rights of the colored citizens

He then reviewed the 13th amendment declaring that it abolished slavery and it did no more. He also reviewed the 14th, the 15th amendment and even the phrases forbidding State to deprive any person of life, liberty and property without due process of law or deny to any person equal protection of the laws have to apply also to the subject. That they refer solely to private arbitrary transfer of property from citizen to citizen without legal adjudication [illegible] pass, and to prevent the establishment of tribunals for one class of persons varying from those which determine the rights of all. These limitations to be borne in mind, controversies are settled at bar by the action of the State only, and have no reference to individuals. He [illegible] decision in Michigan and Ohio in support of this and also the slaughter house cases of the Supreme Court 16th Wallace and then deals at great length with the outrages against the colored race, and expresses his sympathy with that large and respectable class of our fellow citizens including beyond question a majority of the more conservative gentlemen, that there exists nowhere, in either State or Nation, Government with the power of punishing these [illegible] and cowardly murderers

A Mysterious and Horrible Affair.

A Husband Kills His Wife and Commits Suicide.

Finding of the Body.

BOSTON March 23 About 9 o'clock last night the body of Mrs Mary Bingham, a widow lady about thirty years old, was found in the cellar of her mother's residence, No 97, Webster street East Boston, under circumstances which lead to the belief that she was brutally murdered, although the affair is at present involved in mystery The body of the victim was found with the feet lying toward the stairs and face upturned, features fearfully bruised and distorted, and presenting

A Sickening Appearance

The mouth was filled with gravel packed in so solid that the use of a knife was required to remove it In the windpipe was found a large stone, which was driven deep down, dislodged there were several cuts upon the back of the head with one or two on the front and under the chin There were also several bruises upon the head and face, and upon the neck were marks as if some person had attempted to strangle her during the scuffle which must have occurred if she was murdered There were blood spots on the floor and walls, and her false bath was found a short distance from the person The affair is still involved in the most thickly [illegible]

Theory of the Murder

BOSTON, March 23 Investigation into the mysterious death of Mrs Bingham at East Boston last night, establishes beyond doubt the fact that she was murdered The last person she was seen by alive was Mrs Mary Ann Brown, who went to answer the door bell and left supposing she then admitted her murderer A lamp was found in the cellar and a pail of water, showing that the murderer had called to the cellar and washed the water pipes, &c It is supposed a man was guilty of the murder as that Mrs Bingham [illegible] accompanied him to the cellar to light his way

Object of the Crime

THE KNIGHT'S LEAP

BY CHARLES KINGSLEY

So the fool he rose on these benchmen of mine
And the wassail it was high adown
Then he sprang in a dray all of the red Aloe wine—
There's a leap and a dray all but this one

And he sprang mid my harness and saddle my horse
And I and him rode reluctant to the door
For I knew I had such a road to-night before
As steed he never trod before

I have slew many I have fought many a fight
I have drunk my share of wine
There never was a knight in wrong or in right,
Lest a merrier fellow than mine

I have trod by the spur for response score,
As I drink at the lyon tree
The old and the wise that has borne me of yore
Is the peerless steed for me

And now to my bishops and burghers and priests
How the Alleoal shark can die,
If they see me one day at the saloon exit of his nest
He will take to his wings and fly

He has snuffed himself by the pale moone
He mounted his steed at the door
He has not such a fiery sight of the red Aloe wine
As man's ne'er drank before

He spurred his good horse, and he bolt him right
And he rode him away from the hall
Right over the Alleoal shark right into the night—
There's a leap of fame

They found his shoes all morning down in the sea
With him in the middle
But God may offer more mercy than men
On such a bold rider as I

An Important Fact.

The voluntary testimony of thousands establishes beyond a doubt the fact of vital importance to the sick and debilitated, viz: that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is not also a safe and specific for remittent and intermittent fevers, dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, mental depression, nervousness, chronic or rheumatic affections of the stomach, liver and bowels. The unmistakable stamina which it imparts to the feeble in these cases only aggravates the symptoms, hastens and renders more difficult of cure. The efficacy of this corrective and invigorant, with all prevailing dyspepsias and disorders of the digestive organs, is one of the well-known facts of the day. The testimony of thousands, and the interrogation of physicians, prove its claims to be founded upon the most reliable evidence. Its regularity as a promoter of digestion, an preventive of fever and ague, and a remedy for the diseases of the kidneys, bladder and nerves, are also established facts. Nothing assures us more forcibly of the genuine merit of this medicine than the fact that spurious imitations are attempted to be palmed upon the public. Ask your druggist for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and see that you get it.
